SUMMER IN THE SYSTEMATICS II ANTHROPOLOGY II

“Then God said, ‘Let Us make man in Our image, according to Our likeness, so that they will have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the sky and over the cattle and over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth’ . . .”

Genesis 1:26-30

SUMMER IN THE SYSTEMATICS

“And God created man in His own image, in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them. God blessed them, and God said to them, ‘Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the sky and over every living thing that creeps on the earth.’”

Genesis 1:26-30

Genesis 1:26-30

“Perhaps this account would be more understandable if the first sin had been a capital crime—if Eve had struck Adam down in a rage or Adam had slaughtered all the animals just for fun. But eating a piece of fruit?”

“On the other hand, God could have easily said, ‘I didn’t ask for much. I gave you everything and demanded restraint in one little thing’.”

Michael J. Svigel

SUMMER IN THE SYSTEMATICS

“The fact is the simplicity of this command shows the importance of devotion and obedience to our Creator in everything, not just the things we believe are important. In other words, the eating of the fruit was a simple act that points to the far greater issue of rejecting God’s authority and thus offending His honor.”

Satan offers a question based on the perversion of Satan is free to declare God’s word as wrong.”

“There is no tragedy like the tragedy of the historical fall of the human race. Biblical Christianity brooks no rivals when it comes to this momentous event. The fall of Adam and Eve following the creation of the world is symphonic in its terribleness.”

Owen Strachan

“The fall represents holistic personal rejection of God by Adam and Eve. It is demolition moment, a spiritual extinction-level event.”

Owen Strachan

|| ANTHROPOLOGY ||

“The fall of humanity . . . was engineered by a complete reversal of the divine design. Instead of God’s authority being mediated from Adam to Eve to the rest of creation, the biblical fall narrative recounts how the Serpent (Satan) approached Eve, who took the initiative, with Adam following her lead, in breaking God’s commandment.”

Andreas J. Köstenberger

“Adam and Eve became sinners because they sinned.
All since then, except Christ, sin because they are
